SENATOR JONES.

The Salt Lake Herald publishes the annexed: "The Nevada journals are asserting that Senator Jones is already at work laying plans for re-election. His term will not expire for two years, but as political matters are somewhat uncertain in the Sagebrush State, he is taking time by the forelock, and making his path as certain as it is possible to make it beforehand. Some of Jones' friends have lately been given Federal offices, and the impression is prevalent that Jones men are to be put into every place where it is possible to get them, and where they can be of service to him either in the way of organizing or influencing. As a matter of course the fight against him has also set in, and will wax bitter as the gentleman shows his hand and the time for election approaches. When Jones entered the Senate as the successor of Nye, it was with the reputation of having bought his way in by the lavish expenditure of money with the legislators. The charge may have been true or false, but it was generally believed. Nobody, however, felt grieved over the matter, as the country at large recognized as a fact that, in Nevada, all the offices were for sale, and the largest price usually received the highest 'honors.' In the East, and in Washington, the circumstance that Jones was understood to have bought and paid for the Senatorship, was somewhat against the gentleman, the very natural popular belief being that his chief qualification for the place was no qualification whatever, being simply a big bank account. What Tabor, of Colorado, is, is what the country thought Jones was; but the latter was not long in reversing the popular estimate of himself. He soon proved that he had brains as well as money, and that the elements of statesmanship were not wanting in him. He has served ten years, and for at least six years of that time has ranked among the ablest members of a very distinguished body of men. The gentleman has been a pronounced Republican, it is true, but has generally held broader and less partisan views than the average member of his party. He has proven himself to be a careful and conscientious legislator, and some of his speeches have shown deep research and a keen perception and appreciation of the necessities. Mr. Jones has especially been a friend to the West and its great industry, silver mining. He did more, perhaps, than any other man in Congress for silver, his famous speech in favor of justice to the abused metal being one of the most masterly and exhaustive arguments ever delivered in the halls of Congress. Whatever may be said of Jones and the manner of his successive elections, he has been a true friend to his State and the Far West. Nevada has never had a better man in the Senate than he, nor is she likely to find a better to replace him should there be a determination to make a change, and still keep within the lines of the Republican party."

Fair, of Nevada, says a Washington correspondent, is the richest Senator; Harrison, of Tennessee, is the poorest; Sherman, of Ohio, is the leanest; David Davis, of Illinois, the fattest; Butler, of South Carolina, the handsomest; McDill, of Iowa, the ugliest; Mahone, of Virginia, the most heterodox; and McMillan, of Minnesota, the most orthodox. Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, is the best debater, and Don Cameron, of Pennsylvania, the poorest; Van Wyck, of Nebraska, the witliest; and Mitchell, Pennsylvania, the dullest; Bayard the most scholarly, and Plumb the least so; Morgan, of Alabama, talks the most; and Johnson, of Virginia, the least; Saulsbury, of Delaware, is the tallest; and Sawyer the shortest; Edmunds is the best lawyer; Davis, of West Virginia, the best business man; Logan the most noted General, and Frye, of Maine, the most eloquent orator.

The receipts of the Potosi mine for the last fiscal year were $111,203, including $109,353 from assessments. This money was all expended, and at the close there was an over-trait of $6,779. The following gentlemen have been elected as Trustees for the ensuing year: A. K. P. Harmon, J. D. Fry, C. L. Weller, J. H. Dobinson and William Norris. At a subsequent meeting A. K. P. Harmon was elected President, W. E. Dean Secretary, Isaac L. Regna Superintendent.

The Tuacacora Mining News, a Democratic paper, says Senator Jones is a Representative that every Republican in the State should support with pride.

The Grand Prize Mining Company has levied an assessment of 25c per share, delinquent April 18th.

Thirteen States hold elections this year, eight choosing Governors.

THE LOST CHILD.

A FATE WORSE THAN ABDUCTION.

How Parents, by a Lack of Precaution and Care, are Responsible for the Death of Their Children.

[Camden, Me., Herald.]

The moral and legal responsibility of parents, in the care of their children is, fortunately, attracting the serious attention of the better portion of the entire country. The many instances of child beating, oppression and other forms of cruelty which have come to light demand that something be done; and it is gratifying to know that the people are becoming thoroughly aroused. Whether the cruelty be in the form of physical violence or physical neglect, matters not—the principle in both cases is the same. The man or woman who neglects his or her own health, may be pardoned, as the consequences fall upon the individual alone; but the parent or guardian who permits the inroads of disease upon the innocent ones dependent upon him for protection, is criminally liable in the sight of God, however he may appear in the eyes of men. There are, however, parents that intend to care for their children, but, who through carelessness or the urgency of other duties, permit them to become the innocent victims of disease. Such parents may be guiltless of intentional wrong, but the disastrous results upon their children are just as great.

These are truths which must be manifest to every worthy parent and especially in a vicinity where the unknown effects of the atmosphere, the water and the general tendency to malaria are so great. There are many families in this locality who have been called upon to mourn untimely losses, even when the greatest care was exercised; but the experience of one only will be given: It is that of the late W. O. Thomas. The children were all most promising, but for some unexplained reason their health and strength seemed to gradually lessen until their friends feared they were the victims of consumption. One by one, they sickened and died until three had departed and two of the surviving brothers were also taken ill. Their names were Hermon and Edward. Hermon, however, seemed the stronger of the two; and, while his younger brother was confined to the house constantly, and to his bed much of the time, Hermon was able to be about, but in so weak a condition that he had no desire to play. Eddie's symptoms were terrible! He found difficulty in retaining food upon his stomach, was restless and irritable, and out of his head frequently. At various times three different physicians visited him; and each one told his friends he could not live. He finally got so low that death was only considered a matter of a few days. At that critical time his elder brothers, aroused almost to the pitch of desperation by the three deaths that had so recently occurred, and the other one staring them in the face, resolved to take the case into their own hands. They accordingly did so, and secured a remedy that was then being universally used, and began giving it to him. Its effect at first was slight, but any improvement was considered a good symptom. By degrees his strength returned; he was able to eat with a relish, then walk about the house; and finally he regained complete health and strength. The boy was so rejoiced over his recovery that, accompanied by the editor of this paper, he went before Justice Chas. K. Miller and made oath to the facts of his sickness as above related, and that he was restored to perfect health by the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

Now, Edward Thomas' parents, while they lived, undoubtedly, provided faithfully for the wants of all their children; and yet the seeds of disease had taken deep root. Their care in one direction had been counteracted by unknown carelessness in another. Their love was sincere, but wholly misdirected. They should have known that children are just as liable to kidney diseases as grown up people; and that the fatality of Bright's disease of the kidneys is just as great among little children as with adults. This is a serious subject. Hereditary traits: the after consequences of measles and scarlet fever, diphtheria and the passing troubles which so easily become chronic, all demand the greatest care and caution. No case of cholera infantum, measles, scarletina, or diphtheria was ever virulent while the child's kidneys and liver were healthy. It would simply be an impossibility. These important organs of the body are just forming within the child and growing with its growth; and they can be trained to strength and health as rapidly as the little mind can be trained to truth and uprightness.

The importance of carefully watching the slightest troubles of the child, and especially those affecting the kidneys and liver, cannot be too strongly emphasized. Children respond so readily to the proper remedies and are so sensitive to disease, that it is a sin to deprive them of one at the risk of incurring the other. By a judicious treatment these essential organs can be developed so that a strong constitution, able to resist the inroads of disease through coming years, shall be the result.

The Eureka Leader suggests Judge Rives as a suitable Democrat to receive the appointment of Senator should Fair resign. Under the Constitution of this State no person holding a judicial position can be appointed or elected to any other than a judicial position during the term for which he shall have been elected.

The Journal job office has just received a large and fine stock of paper, cards, inks, etc., for job printing and is prepared to take orders for every description of work in the printing line. Only skilled workmen are employed in the job room and no inferior work is allowed to leave the office. Compensating prices are charged for every job and satisfaction guaranteed. Call and examine our specimens and leave your orders.

President Arthur.

[S. F. Call.]

Since the adjournment of Congress, the many journals of the East are bestowing some attention upon President Arthur. The general impression among Republican newspapers appears to be that he has conducted his administration in such a manner as to entitle it to praise. The Chicago Inter-Ocean states it as an incident in his praise that he has made more nominations to office than have ever been made in a single session of Congress since the war, but four of which were rejected by the Senate, and thinks this implies a closer scrutiny into the claims of the appointees on his part than has been given by former Presidents. A Democratic Senator, remarking on this view of the case, said: "We have had no new over nominations this session, and the President has come nearer pleasing everybody than any of his predecessors have done. The only nominations he has made that were subject to severe criticisms he has promptly withdrawn before we got a chance to reject them, and this showed that in making appointments he had no motive but to secure the services of the best men. If his selection were objectionable to the Senate he was willing to accept their judgment and not insist upon his own." The Boston Journal calls attention to the fact that during the session of Congress very little was said about the President, which it considers a sure indication that he was attending strictly to his business, with an honest intention to discharge his whole duty to the country; and the Journal adds: On no occasion does he forget that he is President of the United States. His policy has been, and is, to secure that tranquility which is so necessary to the general prosperity. In relation to no civil service he has shown a disposition to meet the demands of the best sentiment of the country. For the most part his appointments have been excellent. In his own State, where it is impossible to please all factions, he has been sufficiently discreet to escape violent criticism. "No such thing is thought of, so far as we can discover from the tone of the Republican press, as bestowing the nomination for the next Presidency upon Mr. Arthur, so that these opinions may be regarded as free from the taint of political bias.

Matters at Austin.

Austinites may complain of dull times says the Democrat, but we are unable to understand why they should be so in our mountain town. Our mines are showing up nicely, and plenty of rich ore is being extracted from them. The Manhattan mill still continues to run and is turning out plenty of bullion, ten bars, valued at over $9,000, being shipped about every other day. There is sufficient ore on hand to keep the mill running for some time. The payroll on the seventh of this month was nearly $23,000. Prospectors are daily reporting good strikes, and rich rock from Mides Flat and Yankee Blade is brought in weekly for reduction. In fact, the outlook is decidedly favorable for a long lease of life for this camp, which is said to be better than any other in the State. There is no probability whatever that the ore in this section will give out for many years to come. There is of course, no excitement here, because our residents are not in the class which run from one place to another whenever a new ledge is discovered. We would not advise immigration, because there is just about enough work for those who are here. Taking all things into consideration Austin is prosperous in a quiet way.

"Do Likewise."

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo N. Y.—"Five years ago I was a dreadful sufferer from uterine troubles. Having exhausted the skill of three physicians, I was completely discouraged, and so weak I could with difficulty cross the room alone. I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and using the local treatment recommended in your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser.' In three months I was perfectly cured. I wrote a letter to my family paper, briefly mentioning how my health had been restored, and offering to send the full particulars to any one writing me for them and inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. I have received over four hundred letters. In reply, I have described my case and the treatment used, and earnestly advise them to 'do likewise.' From a great many I have received second letters of thanks stating that they had commenced the treatment and were much better already."

Advertising Medium.

The advertising columns of the JOURNAL afford an excellent opportunity to our readers to study out where purchases of all kinds can be made on the most advantageous terms. All classes of goods can there be found advertised from a suit of clothes or nice silk dress to the daintiest ornament in the jewelry line. The JOURNAL reaches nearly every family as well as business houses in the county, and, therefore, advertisers seek its columns that the public may know what they have for sale.

CATTLE TAX
A Knotty Question in the Supreme Court.

Now that the season of assessment has come around the question which has often given trouble recurs, as to which county the tax on certain cattle shall be levied. The case of Fred Barnes against Woodbury, which is now before the Supreme Court, it is expected, will be determined in a few days. The Eureka Sentinel says, unless a decision is reached shortly the same difficulty which gave rise to it will be likely to occur again. It will be remembered that the cattle of Fred Barnes, having been assessed in Eureka County, were reassessed in White Pine by Assessor Woodbury. The cattle in question ranged in both Eureka and White Pine Counties, but the residence of the owner, Fred Barnes, is in Eureka county. The Assessor of this county assessed the property on the ground that though the cattle sometimes ranged beyond the Eureka County boundary lines the residence of their owner should determine the place of their taxation. On the other hand, Assessor Woodbury finding the cattle in question grazing in White Pine County during the period of assessment, levied upon them as he did upon all other property then within his jurisdiction. It seems but reasonable that stock, whose it ranges in two or more counties should be taxed in that county only in which the owner of it resides. There can be no other definite way that appears to us of settling the vexed question. If stock grazes exclusively in a county of which the owner is not a resident, there is no question as to where the levy should occur, but, otherwise, if cattle are not assessed in the one county in which the owner resides, there will always be confusion in the matter, and the same stock may be assessed to the same person in three or four different counties. It is possible even owing to the moving of cattle during a whole season, to subject them to taxation in almost every county in the State. If they are assessable in one county of which their proprietor is a non-resident they may be assessed as well also in the rest in which they may happen from time to time to be grazing for a day or so. It not only appears to be the only reasonable way of putting an end to the controversy to make stock assessable but once, and that in the county in which the proprietor resides, but in practice it will be found generally satisfactory to the different counties. In Elko and Humboldt counties, from the northern boundary of which cattle are driven into Idaho every Summer, the Assessors would know, under such a rule, just how to act, and thereby bring under assessment property that has escaped taxation every year. In the other counties the advantage will not be so material, but it will be great in this, that it will put an end to disputes and obviate lawsuits.

Churchill County Indians.

Capt. John Brockmidge, Chief of the Prutes in Churchill county, accompanied by that inveterate interpreter Johnson Sides, yesterday invaded the sanctum of the JOURNAL office, and insisted upon having printed that Capt. John is one of the oldest-time chiefs, being one of a living trio who assumed power when old Winnemucca was placed at the head of the tribe, that there are one hundred Indians down around Stillwater, all friends of the whites, and engaged in the peaceful pursuits of agriculture, partly for their own account, but mostly in behalf of the settlers, from whom they cheerfully accept $1.25 per day, when not engaged in the exciting sports of the chase or in the arduous duty of gathering pine nuts for winter dessert. Capt. John swears he has renounced all allegiance to all foreign kings, princes or potentates, and is a true and peaceable citizen of the United States.

Agricultural.

The farmer of the Virginia Chronicle imparts the information that advices from the eastern portion of the State say that the farmers in that section have not yet started in to plow, but if this weather continues they will begin to turn over the soil in readiness for putting in their crops. While in California the wheat has begun to joint and the fruit trees are in full bloom, nothing green is to be seen in Nevada. We are two months behind California in the Spring season, and consequently much later in harvesting crops.

TUSCARORA MINES.

Ore Bins Full and a Surplus at the Mill—Increases in Richness.

According to the Mining News satisfactory results of the underground workings have been obtained in all the Tuscarora mines the past week. At the Navajo especially is everything in that condition tending to make a dealer forget that there is any speculation in mining, and make him rejoice in having in his possession a few shares of a thing of joy and profit together, for while matters are running along smoothly the ore bins are full to overflowing, there is a surplus of ore at the mill, and the bowels of the earth continue to yield plentifully with no sign of diminution. The average assay of the ore milled the past week attained $247 per ton, which shows a continued increase in the quantity of the rock as depth is obtained.

Matters are running smoothly, too, at the North Belle Isle. The crosscut is being driven rapidly towards the ore chimneys and developments may be expected in that quarter at almost any time.

The fact that No. 2 drift in Belle Isle is following a small vein of rich ore into the ground under where the former bonanza existed insures a good development in that direction.

The connection has been made by winze between the 300 and 400 levels in the Independence, which gives good air and allows of work on those levels being carried on expeditiously and to excellent advantage.

The Grand Prize machinery is in good working trim and the mine is being thoroughly and systematically opened on its lower levels. Its neighbor, the Argenta, promises exceedingly well. As the drift is run east on the 700 level the ground becomes more solid and presents a more favorable outlook. As for the latter mine, it is only a question of how much, for rich ore is known to exist there.

The ore streak in Elko Cou. has widened to six inches, and being rich, will itself prove a small bonanza to the owners.

The Demands of the National Labor Union.

The Board of Directors appointed by the Central Committee on Labor Legislation, organized by authority of the last Congress of the National Labor Union, submit to the organized Trades Unions and Labor Assemblies of the United States a manifesto headed with the stirring call "Do Your Tents, O Israel!" The manifesto denounces the majority of the Senate as lawless retained by federated capitalists, demands an extra session of Congress as a remedy for impending strikes, and advises all wage workmen to join their Trade Union or Knights of Labor, and present an unbroken front. The manifesto denounces the abrupt suspension of the Senate investigation of the relations between capital and labor, and says this action, coupled with later proceedings inimical to wage workers, convinces the Board of Directors of the insincerity and hollow hypocrisy of the professions of a majority of the Senators. The complete subjection of our legislators to moneyed power was never more clearly demonstrated than by the recent tariff legislation of the Forty-seventh Congress, which threatens to result in an immediate and distressing reduction in wages in many of the great manufacturing establishments of the country. The attempt will naturally lead to strikes, and consequent misery and want—possibly to riot. Disorder will ensue, and the blame will be sought, as usual, to be attached to the poor workmen, instead of to the "gay and festive" huns, hypocrites, jagglers and public plunderers, who basely abuse the powers reposed in them by a confiding people. The psalmist said, "All men of high degree are huns," and had he lived in Washington to-day he would repeat the assertion with our supplementary attachments. Human agencies have undoubtedly devised schemes by which the few have enslaved the many, and human beings must rectify the wrongs. We should not continue to look into the clouds of heaven, like ignorant curs, for deliverance from our oppressors, but to one another. Federated diseases must be counteracted by federated laborers, demanding a with one voice, immediate reform. Whatever we do, however, should be done peaceably, if possible, and in accordance with law.

Warden Bell has got things pretty much to rights at the Prison for the carrying out of his administration. Some changes are being gradually made in the personnel, as, for instance, the succession of Hon A. C. Pratt, of Douglas county, to the Clerkship temporarily filled by Mr. Bechtel, of Reno, who goes presently to take upon himself the duties of the postmaster at that place. Captain Coulter is arranging quarters for his family at the old stone hotel, and will be joined by them next week.—Carson Index.

The development of fossil remains at the State Prison quarry continues to be more and more interesting, scarcely a blast is made which does not disclose new and strange tracks, osseous remains or fossil ivory. The vegetable indications are numerous and interesting as are the many specimens of clams and other mollusks. It is thought that there are few regions more prolific in studies for theozoologists than at this quarry. Scientists are rapidly awaking to the importance of this locality.—Carson Index.
